DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite in that it fails to point out what is included or excluded by the claim language. This claim is an omnibus type claim.

As for claims 1, 4, 6, 7, 9, 10, 12, 22, and 24, the use of conjunctions or phrases such as " either ...or " and "any of..." render the claims as being indefinite, for example, "either a transmit chain or a receive chain..." clearly fails to point out what is included or excluded by the claim language. Appropriate correction is required.

3. The claims are generally narrative and indefinite, failing to conform with current U.S. patent practice. They appear to be a document from a foreign document and are replete with grammatical and idiomatic errors (although it's noted that the application from United Kingdom and Canada), for example, in claim 1, "wherein there are fewer transmit or receive chain than antennas" (for speaking language, not appropriate for claim languages). Appropriate correction is required.

The Examiner suspends further examination with the art rejection at this point for a better and revised version of a set of claim languages that conforms the current US patent practice and it should overcome the rejection 112 as noted above.
